MEETS TWO RIVALS
IN TILTS TONIGHT

Arlington High Meets Fitchburg in Basketball and Melrose in Hockey — Latter Game Will Be Part of Interscholastic Menu At The Garden—Coach Lowder Has Better Team For Fitchburg — Lax Should Be Big Noise in Hockey Fray

By BOB FOREST

It will be hard for Arlington High sport fans to choose for themselves tonight with two great games on tap. It will be a question as to whether they will go in to the Garden at 7.30 and watch the hockey game between Arlington's oldest and ancient rival Melrose of whether it will be a trip to Fitchburg and see the basketball team play another old and ancient rival whom relations have since been renewed after a long intermission. Either game will be interesting and there will be no run away for any of the four teams. They are all equal in their respective games and anything may happen. The basketball team has won three and lost two. Coach Bill Lowder is building a great team for next year, but in so doing he is not having such bad luck, with victories over Everett, Medford and Melrose. He was on the short end of a tilt with Chelsea which looks like sure All-State Champs come over and edged the Red and Gray after Bud Clarke the key man of the team had been injured. Fitchburg has not had a great season so far, having almost the same record as the High School. Mackie will be the job assigned to Clarke and if anyone can do it Bud can, but if he doesn't it will be just too bad. The basketballers have been sharpening their shooting eyes this past week, so don't be surprised if you read where the Red and Gray looped them from mid floor to beat a strong Fitchburg team. Charlie Lowder is missing fewer from the line if he can get set at all it is a sure basket. Madden has been coming fast on the shooting and Clarke and Jones are more or less consistent on their shots. The game should be close and mighty interesting.

Francis Facey
Seeks Election
As Selectman

Announcement was made yesterday of the candidacy of Francis J. Facey, 5 Cheviot rd, for the office of selectman.

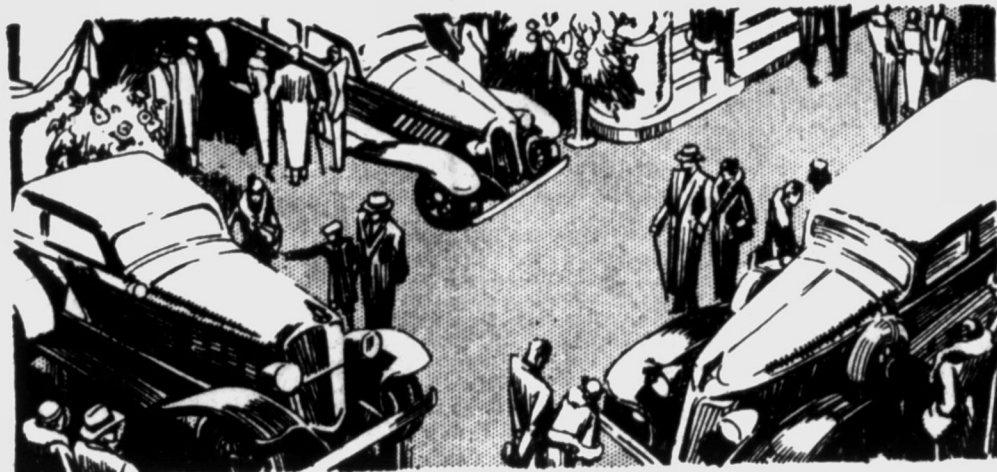

Mr. Facey has for ten years been a resident of Arlington, and for several years a property owner here. During the time he has been a keen, though quiet, student of affairs of the town. His interest has been the stronger because he is the father of three children, two of school age, and it is largely his desire that they have the best possible town to grow up in that has caused him to run for office.

He is a graduate of Boston College High School and of Boston College, and though he has never before entered political life, he has long given close attention to state and national politics. Though he is a Democrat his attitude is one of intelligent political liberalism and progress.

For fifteen years he has been associated in the printing business with his father, J. Frank Facey of Cambridge, who has long been known and liked by hundreds of Arlingtonians. He is now proprietor of the business.

Mr. Facey's candidacy will be a matter of gratification to thousands of local voters. His integrity, conscientious devotion to ideals, courage, and liberal mindedness, as well as his ability, are well known to the many who have come in contact with him. Not only will many Democrats be glad to know that such a Democrat is in the field, but many Republicans will lend him their support.

A thoroughly honest and progressive regime within the limits of reasonable tax expenditures is his platform.

NEW 1934 AUTOS ON DISPLAY IN ARLINGTONFour Charged
With Theft
Of Eggs Here

Charged by the police with breaking, entering and larceny in the night, four people arrested after police claim they had stolen $8 worth of eggs from a lunchroom at 1390 Massachusetts avenue were arraigned in East Cambridge Court yesterday. All four were held in $2,500 bail and their case was continued to February 1.

The theft took place yesterday morning at 2.30. According to the police they were informed, over the telephone, of the break. Officer Roche with two Cambridge officers arrested a man and woman in Cambridge. Shortly afterwards Officers Curran, Roche and Peabody arrested another couple in Arlington. The larceny charges were placed against them. Those arrested were Florence R. Commis, 14 Fairmont street, Arlington; Helen G. Richardson, 19 Wright street; Richard E. Wright, 23 Essex street, Arlington; and Charles H. Gebert, 80 Garfield street, Cambridge.

Individual Showing of New Cars Certain to Attract Attention—Outstanding Improvements Such As Knee Action Wheels, New Lines and Finer
Finish in Most Cars — List of Dealers Showing
New Autos

With the Boston Auto Show coming to a close tomorrow, attention of the public will now be focused on local automobile salerooms where the smart new 1934 models await the careful scrutiny of prospective buyers. Arlington dealers have been busy preparing their individual displays and several new models have already made their appearance in local show windows.

The changes incorporated in this year's new models surpass anything ever seen in automobile history. Improvements seem to have reached no end and the general public is certain to be real pleased at the sight of the new cars. Radical changes in streamlines, color jobs, upholstery that make for beauty and comfort are not the only things which make the new cars outstanding but the manufacturers have gone still further. The materials used in the building of the new cars have been given far more attention than in the past. Those who pay a bit more attention to what is under the hood will be more than pleased with what they see; mechanical improvements will be found in every one of the new cars.

Special Showings—Among the Arlington dealers who will have special showings of new cars are the Arlington Buick company, 835 Massachusetts avenue; Hub Chevrolet company, 326 Massachusetts avenue; W. G. Tenney, Incorporated, 733 Massachusetts avenue; Arlington Motor Company, 348 Massachusetts avenue; Reed Motor company, 795 Massachusetts avenue; R. D. Larvey, 22 Massachusetts avenue.

Meeting Here
Next Sunday

All eyes will be on Junior High School East next Sunday afternoon when candidates to be endorsed by the Civic Committee in the annual election next March will be chosen. The meeting is scheduled to start at 2.30 o'clock.

Every independent candidate for office is invited to attend and give a brief talk on his qualifications for office. After all candidates have been heard, a caucus will be held and candidates nominated. Thus far there has been considerable guessing as to who will be the Civic Committee standard bearer to oppose Ernest Davis, Citizens' Committee candidate. The names most often mentioned for Selectmen during the past few weeks are: Kennedy, Murray, Hughes, Boynton, Barry, Bevins, Facey and Cronin.

The officers of the Civic Committee are John L. Murphy, president; George H. Lowe, Jr., vice president; Paul Griffin, secretary; and John Connor, treasurer.

Rev. Mr. Barber
Attends Session

Rev. Laurence L. Barber, Pastor of the Orthodox Congregational Church has been in Chicago the past four days attending a meeting of the thirty Directors of the several Boards of the Congregational denomination. Mr. Barber is the youngest member of the group of Directors.

During its session the Board is hearing the representatives from the Educational, Home Mission, Publishing, Church Building, Church Extension, and Ministerial Relief Agencies describe the situation in their respective fields. The Board is also making up at this time the denominational budget for 1935. One day of the meeting is devoted to the work of the denomination over seas.

At the service next Sunday morning, Mr. Barber will speak on conditions as revealed in the reports presented to the Directors this past week. His subject will be "The Religious Situation Today in America."

Announcement Long Awaited Here — Candidate, Well-Known in Arlington Through Successful Business Management and Interest in Social and Fraternal Affairs—George Shirley To Be Other Candidate For Park Commissioner — Brookline Selectman Is Guest Speaker — Davis Shows Town Credit Is Good

Speculation as to who the Citizens' Committee would endorse for Park Commissioners at the annual election next March was set at rest this week when the Committee, at its weekly gathering, announced it would endorse John B. Byrne for the three-year term on the Commission while George Shirley would be his running mate. Mr. Byrne is very well known in Arlington where he has been conducting a successful business for years. He has taken an active interest in social and fraternal affairs, especially in the Arlington Lodge of Elks.

One hundred members of the Citizens' Committee attended the meeting and heard its three candidates for School Committee in brief talks. Harrie Daddum discussed the necessity of electing business men to the School Committee, and Mrs. Turner told of some of the work of the Committee to keep a high standard of education in the Arlington schools. Clement J. Beaudet spoke in praise of the splendid work of Superintendent Dempsey for the past three years.

Charles M. MacMillin and Edward L. Shinn, candidates for the Planning Board, talked of the work of the Board with special references to the fine work done in obtaining State aid for the highway from Cambridge to Concord on which work has already started. Alfred W. Lombard for more than sixteen years a member of the Board of Health and candidate for reelection spoke briefly in praise of other candidates on the Citizens' Committee slate. George Shirley, candidate for election to the Park Commission, was introduced to the gathering.

Ernest Davis told of the recent loan of $600,000 obtained by the Town in anticipation of taxes at the remarkably low date of 2 1/2 per cent. There were six bidders for this loan he said where as the neighboring town of Watertown, at the same time, was unable to obtain any bids. He emphasized the importance of keeping Arlington's credit unimpaired, thereby saving considerable money in interest charges. The guest speaker of the evening, Honorable Philip Bowker, selectman of Brookline and Representative to General Court, commented on the fine government enjoyed by both Arlington and Brookline, and on the great advantages accruing to both towns through keeping free of political entanglements with the City of Boston.

URGES ATTENDANCE AT POLITICAL MEETING HERE

The following letter has been received from Thomas G. Hennessy, candidate for Selectman at the March election.

To the Voters of Arlington:

To all who were informed of my intention to run for the office of Selectman at the town election on March 5, and who expected the public announcement on my candidacy last week, I owe an explanation of its postponement.

At that time there was no evidence of any organized opposition to the Citizens' Committee and any announcement would have thrown my hat in the ring as an independent. Since then, however, the Civic Committee has been organized to endorse candidates for the various town offices, and has through the press informed the townspeople of a meeting to be held at the Junior High East on Sunday afternoon, January 28, at 2.30 o'clock. At that meeting all prospective candidates will have full opportunity of addressing the audience, and of stating their qualifications for office. Those present will then vote to select those who are to run against the candidate picked by the Citizens' Committee.

The candidates have bound themselves to accept the decision of the majority, as this is the only way by which the voters can chusetts avenue; the Arlington Motors Incorporated, 954 Massachusetts avenue; and Charles B. Perham, Incorporated, 295 Broadway.

A visit to the above showrooms will prove worthwhile and interesting to every resident of Arlington, whether a prospective buyer or not.

At the Tenney showrooms, the new Cadillac and LaSalle cars are sure to catch the eye. In lower priced cars Hudson and Essex cars at this company will be of interest. W. G. Tenney, well-known dealer is to be congratulated on his display.

Power plants on both the Terraplane Six and the Hudson Eight have been redesigned in many details for 1934. Due to a new crankshaft which brings out all the possibilities of the famous Super-Six design through the use of eight integral counterweights in place of four half-ton type previously used, the last perceptible trace of vibration has been removed from the Six.

On the eight-cylinder engine the crankshaft also has integral forced counterweights, as was the case in 1933. As a result of this new method of construction of the Six the dynamic balance is so accurate that even a delicate instrument fails to register any appreciable vibration.

At the Arlington Buick company, Clifford Miller has on display several new Buicks and Pontiacs.

The 1934 Buicks form a conspicuous example of the lengths to which the builders of fine cars go to appeal to the women who own or use them. Not only in the general appearance of the car and its interior, upholstery and fittings has this been done, but every known device that makes for easy and certain starting, steering with little or no effort and brakes that operate with controlled power at the merest touch of the foot on the pedal, has been incorporated in these cars.

Kenneth Reed of the Reed Motor company has several new Dodge and Plymouths on display at his 795 Massachusetts avenue showrooms.

Both the Plymouth Six and the DeLuxe model have a new "coil wind" windshield. There is a handle just above the center of the instrument panel, with which the driver can open the windshield easily with a few turns. The windshield itself opens on a section of coiled steel. There is also a convenient cowl ventilator.

The DeLuxe Plymouth Six has the most advanced type of side window ventilators yet perfected. In both front windows of all closed models and in the rear quarters of the sedans, swinging window-type ventilators are provided.

New Plymouths as well as 1934 Chryslers will also be found displayed at the Arlington Motors Incorporated. H. L. Leighton is president and E. A. Francis, treasurer of this firm.

William Grattan, of the Hub Chevrolet company is more than pleased with prospects for the year and predicts this will be a banner year not only because of the fine model, he has but also because of the new automobile merchandising policy whereby the purchaser will be apprised of the full cost of his automobile delivered in front of his door, rather than having to rely on "f. o. b." prices.

While list prices on the company's new 1934 models average $70 higher than in 1933, the actual increase in cost to the purchaser in New York is only $40. While the list, or "f. o. b." price, throughout the United States averages 14 percent above 1933, the delivered costs actually average only 8 percent higher.

The Ford car has by no means taken a back seat. Charles B. Perham's display of 1934 models is really extraordinary.

The new car is the best the Ford Motor Company ever built. Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8s now on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chassis design, the new body ventilation system and refinements in body styling, and appointments which have been brought to a proper stage of development during the past year in our engineering research.

The new Ford ventilation system, built into the body, permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides the desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control is provided for both front and rear side windows.

The new Nash at R. D. Lurvey's in East Arlington also compels attention.

Probably the most striking outward feature of the Nash line for 1934 is the deft modeling of what artists term the mobile motif into the pleasing and practical Nash design. Accomplished by the actual embodying of horizontal speed lines upon hood; massive skirted fenders; headlamps; built-in parking, tall-and-stop lamps; and upon hood louvers, this refreshing styling conveys the subtle but unmistakable feeling of motion so essential to ultra-modern automobile design.

The new 1934 Studebaker at the Arlington Motor company, 248 Massachusetts avenue is certain to arrest attention. Edward J. Hachigalupo is more than pleased with the report of sales on this car last year.

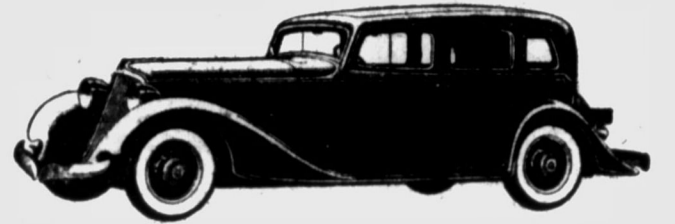

In November actual registrations of Studebaker passenger cars were 314 per cent ahead of Studebaker registrations in the same month last year, while total registrations for the entire automobile industry increased only 112 per cent.

Another interesting comparison is that between November and October of 1933. Total registrations for the industry showed a loss of 30.9 per cent, while Studebaker registrations in November were 98.8 per cent ahead of those for October. Studebaker registrations for November were the greatest for any single month since July, 1931, it was said.

Studebaker sales, both domestic and export, for the fourth quarter of 1933 totalled 18,663 cars and trucks, according to a recent statement by Paul G. Hoffman, president of The Studebaker Sales Corporation of America.

Nash for 1934 has everything! Streamline appearance. Richest of interiors. Individually-sprung front wheels, optional at slight extra cost. Built-in, clear-vision ventilation. Coincidental starter. GIVE REASONS WHY
HUGHES SHOULD WIN

Editor, Arlington Daily News, Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

In considering the candidacy of a citizen who aspires to public office, the voters have the right, which their duty as citizens requires that they exercise, to demand that the aspirant possess certain qualifications and qualities, that experience has taught are necessary in a candidate if he is to fill the office which he seeks to the greatest benefit of the citizens.

Briefly stated, the candidate should have honesty, ability, and experience, together with a sympathetic understanding of the needs and aspirations of the people, he would serve.

We have in mind these things in supporting the candidate for Selection of Albert E. Hughes, 259 Pleasant st., Arlington, Mass., and a few facts about his career to date will help to explain why we see in him a man who exemplifies the highest type of political office seeker.

Mr. Hughes was born in Somerville, Mass., in 1882, one of a large family. He graduated from Somerville High School and at the age of 21, found employment in a State St. law office where he worked days and in conjunction with his work, studied law at Northeastern University Law School at night, from which Law School he graduated in 1907 and immediately passed the bar examination. He has been engaged in the practice of law for twenty-six years and enjoys the high regard of his clients and his professional brethren.

Mr. Hughes is no stranger to public office. From 1922 to 1925 inclusive he was a member of the Board of Aldermen of Somerville, being Vice President of that board during his last year in office. During this period he was a member of important committees of that Board serving on the Finance Committee that had the control of a $4,000,000. budget in the Public Safety Committee in charge of police and firemen on the legislative and Public Works Committees.

Ethel Louise Home

Kitchen Serves Many

The "Ethel Louise Home Kitchen" at 178 Broadway was opened last July with the intention of having a real model kitchen where everything would be made in the view of the customers under the cleanest and most sanitary conditions, by experienced women, cooks under the supervision of Mrs. Acker.

They haven't advertised before now, so feel that a great many of the people of Arlington who appreciate genuine home-made foods, will be glad to know of the fine foods baked here.

Very truly yours,

Carl R. Felton,
Margaret L. Downey.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

BY R. H. D.

The Chronicle, the school paper, came out yesterday and was filled with many interesting items. It seems that the students are going poetical. If you don't believe it get a copy and find out.

Mr. Doherty, the jeweler selected by the Seniors to supply the class jewelry, will be at the school Thursday, February 1, to take orders for rings and pins.

As usual John Cronin must use his vocal cords. He will have the leading role in "Pirates of Penzance" to be given in April.

The Boys' Glee Club is planning to hold a party soon, and the Girls' Glee Club is invited. The members of these clubs may bring someone else, but that someone must attend school at A. H. S.

We are glad to hear that Dinger McLean is improving. You will remember that he was hurt playing football. He isn't coming back to school this year.

Brook Clarke should be made to sing a solo. He probably wouldn't care to annoy those in the study hall after that by his low crooning. Maybe he is a future Bing.

Emery Battis is going to take a P. G. next year before he launches into a theatrical career. This may mean that he will have another big part in the school play in 1935.

The teacher in room 12 doesn't like to see his name in the paper.

A skating party will be held by the Girls' Club today at Spy Pond if the weather permits. No boys allowed!

Two Fine Pictures
At Regent Theatre

What is believed the last story written by Edgar Wallace before his untimely death in Hollywood will be seen on the Regent Theatre screen today in the form of "Before Dawn," an RKO-Radio Picture presenting the sort of thrilling incidents with which Wallace captured countless readers.

Stuart Erwin, Warner Oland, Dorothy Wilson, Dudley Digges, and a notable cast enact the thriller, chills and jitters of Wallace's series tale. A beautiful girl medium combats a murder-bent psychologist who learns of an old house secreting one million dollars of gold. He frightens to death the household mistress with a death mask of her husband's face; hurls the housekeeper to death into a cistern of water below the house, and strangles the medium's father.

Other Picture

"Life in the Raw," a Zane Grey picture is the co-feature at the Regent today and tomorrow. George O'Brien has a new leading lady in this production. She is Claire Trevor, beautiful newcomer to the screen who has been recruited from the dramatic stage. Her last appearance was in the leading role of "The Party's Over," the Broadway success which recently completed a successful engagement in New York. But she will perhaps be best remembered for her part opposite Ernest Truex in the stage presentation of "Whistling in the Dark."

"Berkeley Square"

"Berkeley Square," heralded as one of the year's outstanding photoplays opens at the Capitol Theatre next Monday for a three day run. Starring Leslie Howard and Heather Angel it boasts some of the best acting ever seen and direction unsurpassed. The theme of the film, as it takes a young man back 150 years into the life of his ancestors, has already aroused more comment than did the John L. Balderston play from which it was taken. Leslie Howard gives the best performance of his career and with Heather Angel brings to life a vivid love story intermingling fantasy and reality which bridges two centuries and overcomes the barriers of time.

The companion picture, "From Headquarters" featuring George Brent, Eugene Pallette, and Margaret Lindsay shows the inner workings of a Metropolitan police force in tracking criminals. The story opens with the murder of a millionaire Broadway play boy and follows the search for slayer through scientific investigations at police headquarters from the finger-printing of suspects to their inquisition in the darkened third-degree room. The mystery is made doubling baffling through a second murder which takes place under the very noses of the police at headquarters presumably to cover up the first crime.

All the glamour, color and thrills of the prize ring are realistically on display in "The Prizefighter and the Lady" opening at the Capitol next Thursday with Max Baer, Primo Carners, Myrna Loy and Jack Dempsey. Max Baer proves himself as great a lover as he is a fighter and according to reports, threatens to overthrow the standard movie meaning of the word

"romantic." Tall, lithe and handsome, Baer's stature conjures up visions of clean-lined Greek gods and Socratic athletic students.

The companion picture, "Ever in My Heart" is a tender, though powerful romantic drama starring Barbara Stanwyck, Ralph Bellamy and Otto Kruger. Barbara Stanwyck plays the part of a sweet New England girl married before the war to a German professor of chemistry, who returns to his native land and enters their army, before this country entered the conflict. "Ever in My Heart" carries a powerful climax when the loving wife, as a canteen worker in France, comes face to face with her husband as a German spy.

Scholarship
Bridge A Success

On Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 23, the Arlington Heights Study club held its annual scholarship bridge which in spite of the bad weather was the most successful in recent years.

Not only was the amount set for the scholarship fund, realized but there was a surplus which will be applied to the Vitoria C. Dallin Library Fund.

The dessert was in charge of Mrs. Clarence Johnson, and the food sale was under the direction of Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes and Mrs. John Cope. The committee consisted of Mrs. Geo. Parker, chairman, Mrs. H. H. Stinson, Mrs. Herbert Pelce, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. W. J. Vaughn, Mrs. Norval Bacon, Mrs. J. H. Mead and Mrs. E. L. Thinn.

Arlington Youths To Enter College

A recent survey of the senior class at Huntington School for Boys in Boston reveals that two Arlington students plan to continue their education, by college entrance in September. Daniel J. Buckley has chosen Dartmouth, while Paul T. Hendrick plans to enter Tufts College.

Both of these boys have achieved considerable athletic prowess while at Huntington. Buckley was captain of the 1933 Huntington football team, playing center of the line, and in addition was a regular of the baseball team last spring. He started the season at shortstop, but because of marked ability was promoted to the pitching staff before the close of the season by Coach Monte Moore, who, incidentally, is an Arlington resident.

Hendrick is another athlete of ability, playing regular center at present with the unusually strong Huntington basketball team. He is one of the leading scorers of the Maroon and Black five, and Coach Bill Wilkinson has found him an excellent nucleus about which to build a high-powered court team.

Local Girl Will Present Recital

Jacqueline Camera, 5 years old, of 399 Massachusetts Ave. is giving a piano recital in Faellen Hall next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

She is including in her program "Les Enfantines" by Philipp, and "Sanjo" by E. H. Adams. She is also transposing a piece into any major key.

As the final number on her program she is playing the first movement of a "Concerto in A major" by Mozart. The orchestral parts are being played on the second pianoforte by her teacher, George Pratt Maxim, and the tutti on another piano by Florence Talyan and Armetie Avakian, both Arlington girls. The recital is open to the public.

Jacqueline Camera is studying at the Faellen Pianoforte School, 30 Huntington Ave., Boston. Last year she won a contest sponsored by the Massachusetts Federation of Music Clubs.

Arleat Club To Give Free Tickets For Coming Event

Here's good news for local dance enthusiasts. The Arleat Club, which is sponsoring its first dance at the Robbins Town Hall on Friday evening, February 2, is to give away free tickets to lucky readers of the DAILY NEWS so that they may enjoy the dance as their special guests without any charge.

Every day starting today, the name and address of one lucky person will be found in the Classified Advertising columns along with the word "Arleat Dance". Look through the Classified Advertisements and see if your name is there. If it is, call at the Arlington Daily News Office for your ticket to the dance. If your name is not there be sure to look for it in tomorrow's issue of the DAILY NEWS as well as in next week's editions. One name will appear each day.

The Arleat Club has secured Don Gahan's popular dance orchestra for this affair. The committee in charge comprises George Pacheco, chairman; Daniel Buckley, Jack Aubrey, George Linane, Joseph Mitchell and Nicholas Torriero.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

by Edson R. White

It is said that the Printer's Devil you have so often heard about is really quite a person after all. His is an ancient title and although he is described as the "youngest apprentice in a printing shop" and is a printer's errand boy, there is more behind his title than just that.

One of the most famous of the early printers was Aldo Manuzio, who flourished in Venice during the fifteenth century. He employed a negro slave in his office and many of his customers believed the boy to be an imp of Satan. This proved to be bad for trade so Manuzio decided to use the boy to advertise his business. He paraded the boy through the streets and had the public utter an exclamation, "I, Aldo Manuzio, printer for the Holy Church and the Pope, have this day made public exposure of the Printer's Devil. All who think he is not flesh and blood may come and pinch him."

Business picked up after that, which just goes to show that advertising paid.

Today things have changed. Newspaper advertising has taken the place of the old methods. It is the whip and spur for all business.

PRAISES O'LEARY FOR PAST SERVICE TO TOWN

To the Editor of the Arlington Daily News.

I have already encroached upon the valuable space in your paper, in an attempt to place before the citizens of Arlington, word pictures descriptive of the background of two of the candidates for major offices, at the coming Town election in March.

The importance of voting has also been mentioned, so that the appeal which this letter carries is the third, and I believe that the average citizen will agree that this feature is important and cannot be repeated too often. It is the imperative duty of every citizen of Arlington to vote.

The word picture which this letter attempts to portray, is relative to an office which is most intimately connected with the cost of maintenance, of every habitation which shelters a resident of the Town.

These habitations, together with other properties which are used for business purposes, provide, through a levy of taxes, the money necessary to insure the financial security of the Town, thereby enabling it to meet its obligations. That the levy of these taxes shall be apportioned as equitably as possible, is a problem which must be determined by men endowed with an honesty of purpose, together with the exercise of sound and seasoned judgment.

To determine this equalization involves a great amount of time, thought and labor. Likewise experience, combined with a thorough knowledge of Real Estate values, is not only desirable but essential.

A candidate for the office which prescribes such duties, in whom the citizens can find a working combination of these essentials, is perhaps, more difficult to find than one might imagine.

However, the Town is fortunate in having just such a candidate available, and the office referred to is that of Assessor, which may have been guessed by the reader from the above outline.

He is a candidate for re-election, which, of course, signifies that he possesses previously acquired experience in the office.

In addition, he possesses the other qualifications referred to, and with them the ability and judgment, to properly adjust them to the requirements of the Town. I believe that the honest expression of opinion of the average citizen may be summed up in the following lines.

He has always been courteous, willing to listen to, carefully weigh and consider each and every grievance on its merits, and then render his decision in as just and impartial a manner as possible.

His often expressed doctrine, "Treat everyone with fairness" (this including the Town itself) emphasizes the fact that he recognizes that an honest discharge of his duties prescribes for these equitable adjustments.

Now of course the candidate may not be able to identify himself by this not exaggerated recital of his virtues, for he is a modest gentleman, but the citizens who know him will be able to do so and they will know that these lines speak the truth, and when the proper time comes, they will demonstrate this by voting for John D. O'Leary for Assessor.

Lewis E. Stickney, 88 Appleton st., Arlington Heights.

P. S. This letter like those which preceded it merely expresses the views of the writer.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Chesapeake Fish Special

salt and pepper

2 filets of fish (2 1-2-3 lbs.)

six oysters

3-4 cup butter crackers

3 tbsps. butter

Season fish and place one filet in buttered baking dish. Heat oysters in their own liquor until edges curl slightly. Remove oysters, chop coarsely and mix with finely crumbed crackers (reserving 3 tbsps. for crumbing.) Season and add sufficient oyster liquor to make of stuffing consistency. Put stuffing on fish filet and cover with second filet. Sprinkle with remaining cracker crumbs. Add remaining oyster liquor to baking dish. Bake, covered, in hot oven 425 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Uncover and brown. Six portions.

Tells Of Winter Driving Dangers

Only by using extreme care can the winter motorist avoid accidents and even then some mishaps are unavoidable. In an interview with Henry E. Keenan of the Keenan Insurance Agency at 673 Mass. ave., Arlington, he points out some of the dangers peculiar to this season of the year, which requires particular attention if serious accidents are to be avoided.

Drivers need to be especially careful when going is slippery not to endanger the lives of persons getting on or off street cars and buses. Many accidents are caused by motorists who drive too fast or too close to trolleys and buses which have stopped to take on or let off passengers. Not only is it the safe as well as the courteous thing to do to watch out for pedestrians, but the law in most sections accords them the right of way. In a large Eastern City the registrar of motor vehicles declared that motorists found guilty of ignoring these traffic regulations will be deprived of their licenses until they learn that pedestrians also have a legal right to use the streets and highways.

While rain, snow, sleet and icy roads are most unfavorable to safe driving many accidents can be avoided if motorists modify their driving to meet weather conditions. Speeds that may be safe enough when roads are bare, may constitute reckless driving when the going is slippery.

Another danger incident to winter motoring is the lack of clear vision due to snow or sleet. There are many good devices on the market for defrosting windshields, but on some occasions it is impossible to keep the windshield unobstructed. In such cases it is advisable to drive with the windshield open or raised, even at the cost of personal discomfort, rather than to risk serious injury to one's self or to others.

Most winter accidents can be avoided says Mr. Keenan if motorists will exercise special care when the going is bad and will modify their driving to meet weather conditions.

Those unavoidable accidents to both the driver and the pedestrian can be protected by Automobile Accident Insurance which will provide Income Protection during disability and loss of time as a result of an accident also to meet doctors and hospital bills. This protection can be had for only $2.00 per year or at the rate of 5 cents a day for both accident and sickness coverage. These coverages are well explained in an add on the last page in this issue.

ARLINGTON HIGH

Arlington — Melrose hockey games are almost as vital as football games between the two teams, more so at some times. A few years back when Johnnie Lax bore the Red and Gray, Arlington played Melrose twice for the championship of the Inter-scholastic League, something that has escaped the grasp of any Arlington High hockey team since it started. There has yet to be a winner of the League in Arlington. Keough, Keating, Kinney and Kidd teamed up for Melrose at that time to keep the Championship out of Arlington. There is a Lax in the High School now. As was his brother, he is the star of the team and the man around whom the offense centers. With the showing Arlington has made this year in the League, there is no reason why it should not be the ace team of the League next year. But regardless of that it is at least equal to the Melrose team tonight. When the blonde line does get through the Arlington forward line it is going to find a considerably smarter defense than Melrose has seen before. The Arlington defense has a tendency to commit itself before last Saturday, but has changed its style and as a result had a scoreless game for its belt while their own forward line was scoring two goals. This game is one in which both teams play above their usual standard of play and the fans get a real treat for their money.

So it is now a question as to whether you will go to Fitchburg or go to the Garden. Both games are naturals and both will be red hot. Regardless of which one you pick, you won't be disappointed.

Just try and get a seat for that game next Tuesday when Eddie Shore returns to the Bruins lineup. We thought before, that Eddie wasn't guilty and we still do. Therefore his playing should be every bit as good and maybe a little better. If he wasn't wrong he is going to prove it by hard playing and clean playing.

We made a mistake last week. We said Joe Bevin was running for School Committee. We try to be correct. He is seeking reelection. A real friend to athletics, he deserves recognition for his work for the young people of the town who are athletically inclined.

In hockey when a team commits a foul, if the play is in the scoring zone and the defense has committed the transgression the referee's call until the possibility of a score is over and then call the penalty.

In basketball they call the infringement immediately regardless of the fact that the man going in on the basket might score. This sometimes might handicap a team rather than help it. It might have scored a sure basket for two points while the man given the foul shot only gets one point even if he does sink the foul shot which does not always happen.

We think that basketball could once more set an example by hockey and call the foul shots under the basket in the same manner as hockey fouls are called.

A couple of more nasty spills at the Garden last Saturday. We wonder why the officials don't do something about headgear, before one of those boys gets injured for life. Of course they will make them wear guards then.

Arlington is and always has been a progressive town. What's to stop them from setting the precedent and wearing head gear against Melrose.

Another rival which is fast becoming a natural is Fitchburg whom Coach Bill Lowder's quintet face tonight at Fitchburg. Again we are sorry to say but we are going to pick another loss for the Red and Gray.

As far as we are concerned it looks like a bad weekend for the Red and Gray. But a victory for either team means a great deal of glory, and will raise its standing a long way.

be sure of obtaining elective town officers upon whose judgment and fitness they can rely, and who at the same time are not the choice of any one group or clique.

SPORT TOPICS

By BOB FOREST

You may call the weather anything you like for its quick changes and going cold, hot and then cold like a hula dancer, but it makes for the best natural ice rinks we've seen for ten years.

The skaters cut up the ice, and then the next day's rain storm comes and fills in the cracks and holes and that night it freezes up to make perfect skating. Or it snows and then turns to rain with freezing weather immediately after and again we have ice rivaling the best they can produce in the Garden.

We played on Syp Pond all week and when the players had cut up the ice in one spot, we would just shift over to another spot and start in on some new ice. No worry about cleaning or scraping, just play on a new surface.

Frank Nazro and Babe Everett, former Arlington High stars have been steady customers at the pond. We try to play right wing with this smooth combination, but they're too fast for us. We faced Kingman, sub goalie for the High School and he looked real good in the face of these expert shooters who can put the puck in any place left open by a goalie.

We started a guessing contest at the NEWS office just to see what would happen. We offered a couple of tickets to the Regent Theatre as an incentive. You should have seen the guesses that were passed in. They are of all sorts and of every description. The idea is to guess the score of the Arlington-Melrose hockey game.

The only bad feature was that some passed in two or three guesses. We had to throw them all out and as a result the person didn't guess at all, at least it wasn't in. Only one guess is allowed.

A young fellow by the name of Harold Anderson was the winner last week. He picked Arlington to win, 3 to 0. The score was 2 to 0.

The summaries on the Amateur League will be in the Monday edition of the Daily News. We will have the scores of every member of the League as well as the standings of the clubs and the games that will be played during the week.

It was three years ago that Spy pond was safe for skating on a Sunday and it was certainly crowded fast Sunday. As a matter of fact the pond has been crowded every day there has been skating, and most nights see a large crowd on the pond.

A large number of hockey fans will go into the Garden tomorrow night to see Johnnie Lax play for B. U. against Harvard. Johnnie has been ailing with water on the elbow but he thinks that he will probably play tomorrow night. Johnnie has been given the term as the greatest Collegiate hockey player in the United States. Some honor.

He plays against an old teammate, Archie Duffey. They played together one year at Arlington High. They will be facing each other as centers and it will be an interesting duel for Arlington fans.

Just try and get a seat for that game next Tuesday when Eddie Shore returns to the Bruins lineup. We thought before, that Eddie wasn't guilty and we still do. Therefore his playing should be every bit as good and maybe a little better. If he wasn't wrong he is going to prove it by hard playing and clean playing.

We think that basketball could once more set an example by hockey and call the foul shots under the basket in the same manner as hockey fouls are called.

Arlington High meets an old rival in Melrose tonight at the Garden. The odds are about even, although Melrose has been looking very good in the past couple of games while Arlington was a hundred percent improved against Stoneham.

We think that odds are even, but despite all that we are going to pick Melrose to win 2 to 1. We hope we are wrong and that the Red and Gray wins, but when we pick scores we don't do it for the liking we have for a team. We pick them for the way they look to us.

A couple of more nasty spills at the Garden last Saturday. We wonder why the officials don't do something about headgear, before one of those boys gets injured for life. Of course they will make them wear guards then.

GLENDALE COAL CO. EXCLUSIVE AGENTS FOR NEW DOMESTIC FUEL, "PETROLEUM CARBON"

Hottest, cleanest, domestic fuel known to science—Pure carbon—Leaves no Ash—Lasts longer than other solid fuels.

A new, domestic solid fuel is now available to Greater Boston home owners through the appointment of the Glendale Coal Co., as New England distributors of the famous, "Petroleum Carbon." With headquarters at 47 Medford St., Charlestown, and branch offices located in surrounding cities and towns, the Glendale Coal Co. is prepared to make immediate deliveries of this new wonder fuel, Petroleum Carbon.

Founded in 1907, the Glendale Coal Co. is now rated as one of the five major coal companies of Boston, a position attained through more than a quarter century of progressive, expert management by men who know solid and liquid fuels "from the ground up." The company has always maintained a policy of "guaranteed customer satisfaction," handling only quality fuels that were the best obtainable from both foreign and domestic producers and offering a complete, efficient fuel service that has constantly gained many new customers. It is an interesting fact that the Glendale Coal Co. was the first dealer to give a particular kind of coal a read identity, and the well-known "Hi-Heat" Anthracite was advertised and sold under this name and today is known and used in more Greater Boston homes than any other brand of hard coal. Other brands created by other companies soon followed, so now the consumer specifies his favorite brand and is sure of getting the same quality from the same mine-year after year.

Paul Sears, general manager of the company for the past 14 years, is enthusiastic over this new addition to the "Glendale Fuel Family" and predicts that Petroleum Carbon will take its place as the "ideal domestic solid fuel." Speaking to his sales organization, at a recent meeting, Mr. Sears said: "Petroleum Carbon is not a new, untried fuel, but it is new to New England! It has been marketed as a domestic fuel for several years over a large area bounded on the South by Fort Worth, Texas; on the East by Cleveland, Ohio; on the North by Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota, and on the West by Omaha, Nebraska.

"It is an excellent fuel for solid-fuel heaters of every description. Petroleum Carbon burns easily, has a high B. T. U. Value, holds fire longer, makes less smoke—and No Ash Waste! Burn it as you would any other domestic solid fuel. IT'S HOT—TER: Contains 2,000 MORE heat units per pound than any other domestic solid fuel—it's the hottest, cleanest solid fuel known to science. IT'S CLEANER: Gives clean, even, dependable heat and permits you to maintain even, healthful temperatures—There is no messy ash problem!—Creates no soot or dirt and can cause no damage to your heating equipment. MORE ECONOMICAL: Having an oil base, pure carbon, Petroleum Carbon burns up almost entirely... practically 99 1/2% is heat... clean, pure, head. There is actually less than a shovelful of ash to a ton. Petroleum Carbon costs less because you burn less."

The Glendale Coal Co. has printed an interesting and instructive booklet, free for the asking, telling about Petroleum Carbon. Its superiority over other solid fuels—How to burn it for best results, etc.

Rehearsals Under Way For New Play

Preparations are under way for a three-act comedy to be presented on March 16 by the St. James Dramatic Club. Try-outs were held Monday and Tuesday nights of this week and the cast will be announced shortly. "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" is the name of this latest production by the organization, which although still new, already has several successes to its credit.

At a recent meeting of the club, Mr. and Mrs. Max Stohl, prominent devotees of the Little Theatre movement in Boston, lectured on the modern trend toward Little Theatre groups and its specific application to the St. James Club. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stohl have distinguished records in the dramatic world, being connected with the foremost groups in the city. After their lectures, an open forum was held, and local problems were discussed in a helpful and entertaining way.

One reason for the quick development of the club is its activity in its chosen lines. Semi-monthly meetings are held and one-act plays are produced for club entertainment. About four public productions a year are scheduled and the St. James Club which has already won an enthusiastic following, bids fair to be a most successful Little Theatre group.

With The Kiwanians

The speaker for today was our own member, "Spin" Wunderly, lieutenant governor of the fifth division. His knowledge of civic and economic conditions was certainly a revelation to the Club. A local man very seldom receives recognition to a very great extent in his own home town, but not so in this case. From all appearances "Spin's" reign will be one of success, of which the Arlington Club will be very proud.

Our underprivileged child work is being carried on, as usual, very proficiently, by Jack O'Leary, as it has been for the past five years. We are carrying four crippled children to and from school every day. Our past president, Walter Chamberlain, gave us his version of life on the farm today. It was quite enlightening, to say the least.

Each week it is the duty of one of the members to ask the blessing before our luncheon is eaten. I understand Harry Baker is to visit F. P. Hawkes before next week.

It was a pleasure for the Club to listen to the rendition of "Far, Far Away" by our "silver voiced" tenor, "Len Roberts, accompanied by our musical director with the soft touch, Ray E. Mauger.

Looking Inside

You remember at last Town Meeting the School Committee asked for money to fix the roof of auditorium of our 1929-30 Selectmen's Memorial High School. The School Committee claiming that the roof leaked and was not completed when the building was put in their charge. That was the big moment because up jumped a gentleman representing the Eagle Cornice Co. who I remember correctly, stated that his company did the roofing job referred to—did it well—did it according to the plans, specifications and their contract and even hinted that if anything was wrong it would be fixed at once. The gentleman was even quite dramatic about it.

Recently the School Committee issued an order to the Eagle Cornice Co. reading as follows: "Re-cover deck roof of Auditorium of High School below monitor walls, $232.00" Our "unfinished symphony" progresses.

P.S.—We have a new industry in town. A municipal equipment business. In Sunday's Globe of Jan. 21 there was an advertisement printed between offers of various kinds of horses as follows: "Two single offal, 1 paper wagon, 1 road sweeper, set new harness." Following was the name and a Wildwood ave. address.

P. S. S.—Politics are beginning to hum. On one side we have a complete list of candidates endorsed by the Citizens' Committee but we haven't yet heard from the other side. To be sure a few independent candidates have indicated their intention to run but no slate as yet. However we will hear from them after Sunday. Here is hoping they come out with a good strong list.

With strong men on both sides it would mean a good contest—a large vote—and good men whichever one wins.
